

Team Member Gives Time to Farm Rescue

Glen Haekenkamp, Central Parts Manager, is a true Champion of Farm Rescue and the philanthropy that drives volunteers to help others in times of need.

Glen has transported machinery to and from different cases, promoted Farm Rescue awareness at local trade shows and celebrations, picked up and delivered employees and volunteers across three states, and acted as a true role model for humility and charity.

This year, Glen has given of his many talents, his own time, and the time of his family to assist Farm Rescue in helping more than 400 farm families over the last 11 years.

“He is a tremendous inspiration to everyone as he continuously demonstrates his kindness, consideration, and dedication. Farm Rescue is always looking for volunteers and is rewarded significantly with service provided by people like Glen. Thank you, Glen and great job!” commented Todd Thompson, General Manager Ag Remarketing.

Glen Haekenkamp, pictured here, has shared his time and his talents to support Farm Rescue.

